

Welshpool & District Pool Press

22nd January 2018

Earlier this month, the league was rocked with the tragic news that a much loved member and landlady, Barb Jones, died, along with her friend Christine Evans. The whole league passes on their deepest condolences to the families and friends. The following week's matches were delayed by a minutes silence in remembrance.

The league is very proud to have been in association for what is this season, our 10th, with Costas from Andrews Fishbar. His support over this time has been superb, down to having the foresight to have the Andrews cup as a handicapped event to help and encourage the lower placed teams reaching Finals day. In recognition of his 10 year sponsorship, Costas has been invited to this years Finals day to present trophies. Back to the Andrews Premier league, Cross Keys A strengthened their defence of the league without playing as Argae B went 3 draws in a row, this time against an excellent Deliberate Dragons. The Oak A and Topdogs did their chances of staying in the league, the world of good, with wins over the Fez B and Twitchers respectively, however the Horse and Jockey are deep in trouble after losing to Castle Boys. The Lions ran out with a big 9 3 over the Punchbowl

Can all teams please note in Division One, that the Cock Forden team are now named Wandering Dragons and are playing out of the Green Dragon Welshpool for the remainder of the season. Our website reflects all of the changes. Despite a healthy lead in the league, the Tigers only dropped their 4th point of the season against the Punchbowl, proving teams will get something if they can take their chances. The Cross keys B and Argae A made full use of this by recording wins for what is surely a battle for runners up. The Keys B will be kicking themselves after a poor start to the season but have done well to catch up. The Wandering Dragons found their new home to their liking by beating The Swillers 9 3. The Kings Head by virtue of beating the Angel B, are trying to join the second placed teams for a possible place in next years Premiership. Next week`s match of the Tigers against the Wandering dragons looks a tasty one, as does Argae a away to the Kingshead.

The Division Two league more than most has been hit with the very sad news of the death of The Welly landlady, Barb Jones. The whole league's sympathies go to her Welly Allsorts colleagues and wish them all the best for the remainder of the season. This week the Cock Brockton dropped a vital point against the Jockey rats who have now joined a five way fight for the title. The Lion Cubs will be licking their wounds this week after suffering defeat against promotion rivals Halfway House. Another team to drop a point was the Judges who could only manage a draw against the Herbert Arms. Who will hold their nerves in the coming weeks as this is easily the best fought after league of the three, this season.

The Dukes match against the Allsorts was postponed, which is sure to be an emotional night for both teams once they reschedule. The Dukes now have two matches in hand over their rivals which could lead them into the title race if they can take full points. With no clear favourite for the title, we could have a last week of the season were numerous teams can win or be promoted. Good luck all.
